

DFARS Compliance Checklist

One-page pre-flight for primes, DoD contracting officers, and federal integrators. Each clause is stated in plain English so contracting officers can mark them off before the first formal RFQ, and the buyer sign-off column is the organizing side of the audit trail ahead of CAGE-coded shipment.

Issuer: Redoubt Fastener Co. - Defense Team

Generated: 2026-09-21

Document version: 1.0

Description	Qty	Unit	Amount
DFARS 252.225-7012 - Berry Amendment / Restriction on certain foreign articles. Trade Agreements Act (TAA) and specialty-metals restriction: the item must be grown, reprocessed, produced or manufactured in the US or qualifying country, and substantially transformed in the US. Foreign articles are restricted unless an exception or alternate-clause carve-out applies to the procurement.	1	$0.00	$0.00
DFARS 252.225-7009 - Restriction on certain military parts. Articles on the restricted-articles list (specialty metals, certain carbon and alloy steel, and other military-critical parts) must be acquired from a qualifying country or US producer. The per-lot cert chain must evidence country of origin and producer for every restricted article.	1	$0.00	$0.00
DFARS 252.225-7014 - Specialty metals clause. All metal content of the part or its sub-components must be melted or produced in a qualifying country or the US. The per-lot cert chain must name the smelter and the recycler for any recycled feedstock.	1	$0.00	$0.00
CAGE code disclosure - Buyer's CAGE code on every PO and per-lot cert. The buyer's CAGE code must be disclosed on every PO and recorded on each per-lot cert so the lot traceability chain links to the contractor's SAM.gov registration record end-to-end.	1	$0.00	$0.00
Country-of-origin assertion - Melt and final-manufacture origin assertions. Each per-lot cert must assert the country of melt (for metal content) AND the country of final manufacture; both must satisfy the DFARS clause invoked by the procurement vehicle.	1	$0.00	$0.00

Sign-off column: mark each row once the buyer has confirmed the clause applies and the per-lot cert chain matches. Pending SAM.gov identifiers (Redoubt CAGE / UEI) are confirmed by the Defense Team at the first formal RFQ response so the lot traceability chain starts with the right registration record.